“ I just wish you could be here to see Adyson and Bryce Mama you would not believe these amazing children! I am so blessed that I seen what a mammie does I know how to bond and be a good Grandmother b/c u were the best! U are in my soul and with me every place I go and I have grown so much that you would be proud . Things here will never be the same but with God all things are possible and I know with him by my side this world dont have a chance that I will ever fall so hard again. We are ok Mama and we miss u being here to guide us all ! truly missed ! I love u always !

“ *What would you expect of me.
I will live my as though you are watching my every move, I will not let you down Mama, I will be the man you always knew I could be, there is still a long way to go but I will never ever quit! After all, I had the greatest, strongest, most loving teacher a son could ever ask for, you will always be my absolute hero, I Love You and proudly wear the title "Mama's Boy!"*

“ It has been 2 years, 10 months and it feels as though I'm weightless, I push through everyday thinking of you dear Mother, I have continued where I left off, you would be proud of me, you always have been, even when I didn't deserve it, you have always been the driving force in my life and you remain the same now. I often find myself asking (when in difficult situations) wha would its 5/23/2010 its been a long 8 months without you in my life.

there is so many things i wish i could have said to you. first i wanted to go back and hug you one last time. second i just want you to know you have the most beautiful uplifting smile ive ever seen. you kept me together just by your wonderful laugh. i love and miss you more than you will ever know. im sorry i didnt make it in time to hold your hand and for adyson to have a bath with you one last time. i hated seeing you so sick it hurt me to know you were embarrassed of being sick. mammy you are the strongest person ive ever met and one day i hope to be with you again. your name will forever live amongst my home and brand new family. i love you more than you will ever know. rest in peace mammy. i love you ! and just wish i had you here with me.

“ It's been two months. Two months without you. It hurts to know that you will not be with us this Christmas...but still, in some ways, you will be. I'll never forget last Christmas, when you gave me a beautiful diamond ring, and just hugged me for the longest time. You looked up and said I love you, and meant it with all your heart. Thank you for being the most wonderful grandmother ever. Thank you for always being so encouraging, and telling me to never be afraid to live life. I hope that as I continue to grow up, I keep making you proud of me. I love you, and miss you so much. Rest in Peace Mammy.
