“ I was in the cemetery at the time of your service..I was visiting other sites and got somehow got block in and I stayed in my car.. I stayed and realized what your service was..An infant..Just to say something.. I went back and I saw this beautiful little spray of flowers and simply said to"Olie" God has you now..I'm glad that I got stuck because I will never forget a name like "Olie"..My best to you and your family,Jane Anderson

I'm his mom and just now seeing this! After typing his full name is on good Glen thank you so much for caring!! He passed in 2015. After all of these years I'll never forget my baby! I've been to see him once it's just so hard losing a child a month after his 25th birthday. I can't swim in that pool until this day. I miss him so much!!

“ My deepest sympathies to Heather and Devan. It is deeply painful to lose a child. I hope that someday you'll be able to find some comfort in God's promise to bring our loved ones back to life. He will put Oli in your arms again. Revelation 21:4 says at that time, there will be no tears, sorrow, pain, or even death anywhere on the Earth.
