“ this is her daughter Heaven Soderberg, i miss my momma so much every day. she was the best mother anyone could ask for, she was there for me thru the thick and thin. i wish i could tell her how sorry i am for treating her like crap all those years and i wish i could change what i did and make it up to her, i blamed her for things that wasnt her fault, i took my anger and hurt out on her even tho she wasnt the one i was mad at. i just wish i could have one last convo with her and tell her how sorry i am and tell her how much i love her. ik she's up in heaven with my Lord and Savior and that she's safe and not in pain anymore. I'm getting the help that i need and getting better and being good, i hope im making her proud.... mom i love and miss you so much...
