“ My sincere condolences to the family, she has been a strong and brave woman, I had known her for over fifteen years as a patient, we had come a long ways together through her health and illness, I will always miss her smile and courage that she fought her illness with over the years and never gave up hope, however we can not stop the inevitable. She is in peace and not suffering any more, may God give strength to the family to deal with their loss the same way she always did. God bless.
