“ To the Rogers Family:

With heavy hearts we take this time to express our personal condolences to the family of Hattie R Rogers. Our deepest thoughts and prayers go out to the entire family, and friends of the family during this hour of great sorrow. I know that the family and friends will be there for you with much love and support. But we must also remember that God will also be there for. The scriptures reveal that God is a God of tender mercy and comfort. (2 Corinthians 1:3-4) On this day God is taking the time to share words of comfort to the Rogers family regarding the future life that he is willing to extend to Hattie R Rogers. These words of comfort are recorded in a promise and can be found at John 5:28-29. In these two powerful verses, God tells all reading these verses that he would soon cause a calling to go forth to those in the grave to stand up in life again. Yes, our departed loved ones have the hope of standing up and living again. No, not just for a few years, but forever. So the promise from God serves as a personal guarantee that the resurrection of life will certainly take place. Really, now is the time for us to build up our faith in this promised blessing from God. This can be done by giving consideration to all nine recorded accounts that speak about this grand blessing from God. Here is just one such example that is recorded at Acts 9:36-42. I truly hope that all will get a chance to see how these verses apply to Hattie, and to billions upon billions of people from all around the world. So, in closing we encourage all to please keep this promise of God near your hearts at all times. Remember that when God makes a promise, it becomes reality. For it is impossible for God to lie. (Titus 1:2)
